

General Butler gets even by calling Harvard a "dude factory."

Somebody should put a plug in Prof. Hinsdale's mouth so that he can not blab if he wants to.

President Arthur's letter on the Louisville Southern Exposition is being warmly commended North and South.

Rhode Island never had a State flag until last week, when she hoisted one, a blue sheet with 13 stars and an anchor of gold upon her State House.

Some of the ladies of Cleveland have determined that they will wear no gloves until the prohibition amendment to the Ohio constitution is adopted.

At the Knights Templar conclave in San Francisco there is to be a mineral exhibition. Have any steps been taken to have Nevada represented there?

The Index describes the situation at Carson thusly:

Nice town; healthy place to live; garden spot of the State; if only business was lively.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has rejected prohibition this year and the Philadelphia Record predicts that the question will be the important issue in the next election of a Legislature for that State.

Our patriotic exchanges appear to be trying to work up a Fourth of July boom, but thus far without much success. Apparently, the day will not be very grandly celebrated this year in the State of Nevada.

The Tuscarora Mining News thinks that "Colorado, with her magnificent Mining Exposition, is doing her best to attract capital, while Nevada, by taking no steps to be represented there, is doing as much to repel it."

The astronomical observer of the Providence Journal says that neither moon nor planets make a brilliant appearance on the June record. The most noteworthy planets, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn, are not in their brightest aspects, and the lesser planets are of small account.

The Eureka Sentinel says that George Hearst, on his recent visit to Safford, is reported to have said that if the Onondaga develops as it promises to and as he expects, it will turn out not inferior to the celebrated Ontario mine in Utah, in which he is interested, and which is considered one of the biggest mines in the world.

From present indications it is safe to assume that the Northern Pacific will be completed by the last of August, when the trains will run between St. Paul and Portland. The road carries 150 pounds of baggage on the Eastern division, 100 pounds on the Western division and the stage company 40 pounds, free. Pullman sleeping and dining cars are run between St. Paul and Helena and Pullman sleeping cars on the Western division.

Herein lies the difference. Europeans come to America to make money; Americans go to Europe to spend large sums. Europe contributes largely to the follies of American society; America enriches the exponent of European extravagance. Americans mark their course through the Old World with gold; Europeans strew their path through the New World with sunflowers. We send our millionaires to sojourn in Europe; Europe sends her paupers here to stay.

The San Francisco Post says: "Some sensational developments are promised in the trial of Miller for the murder of Dr. Glenn. There have been rumors ever since the killing that there were circumstances connected with the case that would put Miller in a different light from what he was shown in the accounts published at the time. If the stories which have been so widely whispered of late are true and are shown to be in Court, it will appear that Miller's act was not entirely without provocation."

Our great northern district of Alaska is proving to be very valuable territory. Furs are not the only source of wealth in that country. Gold is there in large paying quantities; and in a few years there is little doubt that some of the richest mines in the world will be yielding the precious metal in Alaska. The best Russian authorities think the mines of Siberia will yield $25,000,000 worth of metal this year. Australia and the United States are the only lands that take the lead of Siberia as gold producing countries. There is every reason to believe that the same rich mineral belt that is making such magnificent returns to the Russians runs through Alaska.

"OLD TECUMSEH."

He Makes a Characteristic Speech to the West Point Cadets.

Sherman's farewell address to the West Point graduates was both humorous and pathetic. "In looking at this fine graduating class, even from this distance," he said (and the graduates pricked up their ears, expecting compliments), "you look exactly like the class of last year and the one before that, and the one of every year since the class I graduated in. [Laughter.] I can see myself and my old classmates almost in your features. I can see old Joe Blarkster of 1836. A great, big, stout fellow from Ohio, six feet five inches in his stockings, a yard across his shoulders, weighing 280 pounds, with hands hard with toil on his father's farm, but who now lies buried under the sands of Florida. I can see Bryan P. Tilden, a member of my class, who came from the best schools of Boston, and at once led off the class. We were all afraid of him. He knew too much. He had an honorable record till he went with the troops to Mexico. Then he wanted to get rich, committed robbery and was condemned for murder. A scaffold was erected on which to hang him. Just in the nick of time the treaty was signed and he escaped. He lost his commission, went back to Boston and found plenty of lawyers to whitewash him. Tilden died and has a costly monument, I believe. When these men approach the gates, for one they will stand ajar, but for the other I think they will be closed. I love every cadet that looks like Blarkster even to this day. I love to see you strong and manly. If you don't love your profession, go away quietly. You may, one and all, become heroes, as others have before you. I beg you, one and all, to look upon me kindly, for this may be the last time I shall ever come to West Point; at any rate, in an official capacity. In two short months I shall cheerfully and willingly resign my commission. I will surely come back from time to time, if I can. Good-by, one and all."

The correspondent says: "I have heard Sherman speak on a great many occasions, but never saw him so deeply affected as to-day when he made his official farewell to West Point. Nearly everybody in the assemblage was in tears, and half the cadets were trying to conceal their faces."

A personal friend of President Arthur writes to the New Haven Palladium denying the reports that the President is scheming to secure a nomination for the National Convention in 1884. "It is no secret whatever," he says, "that the President's health is poor, that he chafes under the wear and tear of his office, and that he looks forward with intense longing to the day of his release from irksome responsibilities. Only a few days ago he said to a very near personal friend, not an officeholder, 'My own ambition is to see the country more prosperous at the close of my administration than it has been in the past, and have that prosperity guaranteed by another Republican successor.' He has repeatedly given his friends to know that under no conceivable circumstances would he again be President." What is here said expresses, no doubt, the real facts as to the President's wishes for the future. There is certainly nothing in his recent course to justify a belief that he is plotting for the succession.

The mining industry in the United States is a source of great national wealth. The rich treasures that have been unearthed in this country have made a revolution in the commerce and trade of the whole world. The increase on the capital invested in mining operations is greater than that resulting from any other industry taken in the whole. The New York Mining World learns from strictly reliable statistics that from 1850 to 1880 there were paid out for mines and their development $700,000,000, and that the cash returns resulting therefrom during that period were $2,200,000,000, being a profit of over 300 per cent. This is encouraging and when we reflect that new fields are constantly being prospected with good results, and that the facilities for conducting mining operations are better than any ever before, and the consequent expenses much less, we predict for this country in the next thirty years much more handsome returns than in the past thirty.

The Albany Express shows what the Republican party has done in the way of straightening out the Democracy, and what it will do, to-wit:

"The Republicans have whipped slavery principles out of the Democratic party.

The Republicans have whipped secession principles out of the Democratic party.

The Republicans have whipped repudiation principles out of the Democratic party.

The Republicans have whipped inflation principles out of the Democratic party.

The Republicans will whip free trade principles out of the Democratic party in 1884.

Exportation of Cattle.

The Ogden Pilot endorses the action taken by the Treasury Department in issuing regulations governing the exportation of cattle from this country and says it will assuredly result in much good to all our citizens interested in the stock business. It is a wonder that this matter was not attended to long ago. The restrictions put upon the importations of American beef by certain nations in Europe have very materially damaged the cattle interests in the United States. The discrimination made by those have no doubt been rather unfair towards us still it is just as clear that our Government has been very careless in allowing the exportation of cattle to those countries without proper supervision. The careful inspection of the vessels to be employed in the transportation of cattle and the disinfection of the same are ordered none too soon. The danger of contagion to future shipments of cattle is now carefully guarded against; and it is hoped that this provision will have the effect of removing the present restrictions existing upon our cattle trade in England. It is certain that the inspection will have to be very thorough and the precautions against disease germs be very complete if the dread now existing in the old country respecting beef from the United States is to be removed. It may take several months, possibly years, of strictest vigilance on the part of authorities to get our cattle exports to assume the same proportions they would have had, had our good name in this respect not been injured.

High License in Illinois.

The Harper high-license bill passed the Illinois Senate Friday afternoon by a vote of 30 to 20. The Republicans supporting and the Democrats opposing the measure. Governor Hamilton signed the bill a few moments after its passage. The new law fixes the whisky license at $500 and the beer license at $150 annually, over the entire State, including all cities and towns. The new law goes into effect on the 1st day of July next.

Interesting extracts have been published from a letter which Grant wrote to his mother when he was a student at West Point. "Your kind words of admonition," he said, "are ever present with me. How well do they strengthen in every good word and work. Should I become a soldier for my country, I look forward with hope to have you spared to share with me in any advancement I may gain, and I trust my future conduct will prove me worthy of the patriotic instruction you and my father have given me."

Doesn't it seem a little bit surprising that Democratic journals which profess such strong anti-monopoly principles should speak favorably of Judge Field as a Presidential candidate? He is a more subservient instrument of the railroad corporations than either Carpenter or Humphries of the California Commission.—Tuscarora Mining News.

The most healthy and popular drink of the season is the ice cold soda water, sparkling with purest gas and flavored with true, delicious fruit syrups, to be had only at Queen's soda fountain.

Home Comfort.

After a Rainy Ride a Country Physician Tells What He Thinks of Some People.

"I wish to gracious some people would learn when they need a doctor and when they don't," exclaimed Doctor E., as he entered his house in a cosy little village in the interior of the State of New York, after a tedious night ride of many miles. "I have been down among the mountains to see a man, who the messenger said, was very sick and not likely to live till morning, unless he had immediate help; and found him suffering from a sharp attack of colic, which his family might have relieved in ten minutes, if they had a grain of sense and two or three simple remedies in the house. But no, they must remain ignorant as pigs, and when the least ache or pain takes them, send for a doctor, whether they ever pay him or not."

"Why, Doctor, what kind of simple remedies, as you call them, do you expect to keep in the house?" asked his wife, as she poured him a cup of hot tea.

"In this case," answered the Doctor, "if they had only put a BENSON'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER on the man's stomach, he would have been all right in an hour, and saved me a dreary ride."

In all ordinary complaints it cures at once. All diseases are eliminated from the system by what may be roughly called expulsion or extraction, or by a union of two processes. Benson's Plaster promotes both. It induces the torpid organs to act, and sends its healing, soothing influence through the myriad pores of the skin. All other plasters oblige the patient to wait. They give him hope for to-morrow. Benson's Plaster gives him help to-day. Which is better, do you think? Buy the CAPSICUM and keep it in the house. Price 25 cents.

Time for Tourists.

The season of the year has arrived when the people who inhabit the lower regions of the State and in the large cities, will begin their usual exodus to cooler climes—to the seaside, to shady spots on the Coast Range or to the still more secluded resorts in the Sierra Nevada. To those who desire a change of the surroundings, who enjoy the sport of casting the fly or shouldering a gun, these mountains offer superior inducements. Those who love to behold beautiful scenery—tall peaks with snow-capped summits, rugged cliffs, dark woods and silver lakes reposing in their midst—the Sierra Nevada's delight. Among these scenes none can surpass the beauty of our lakes—Webber and Independence. Neither can there be a more attractive mountain valley than this. The hotels at the lakes are now open. Webber lake is under the charge of T. S. Battelle and Mrs. J. Campbell, and every care will be taken by them to make their guests pass their time pleasantly. Independence lake is under the management of A. P. Keach, and its attractions will be by him displayed to its greatest advantage. Come, all ye tourists and tired people of the valley, who need rest and recreation, to these beautiful resorts in the hills. So says the Sierra Valley Leader.

A Heavy Suit.

Lawrence Harnett has begun suit in the Eureka District Court against the Eureka Tunnel Mining Company and F. E. Connor for the recovery of $23,000 damages, with interest since January 1882. In his complaint he alleges that it was agreed between him and the company and Connor that in consideration of his deeding to the company a certain mining claim the company would issue him 10,000 shares of its capital stock upon demand. That he deeded the property to the company, but the company did not and have refused to issue the stock or any part of it to him, but have issued the same to Connor. That the company and Connor have converted the stock to their own use, and that the stock was worth $2 30 per share when converted and for those reasons he asks judgment in the sum above-named. Messrs. Wren & Cheney are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Publishing Company.

The Eureka Leader Publishing Company has been incorporated. The amount of the capital stock of the corporation is $10,000, divided into 1,000 shares, at the par value of $10 per share. The following gentlemen were elected as Trustees for the next six months: Thos. Wren, M. D. Foley, G. A. Fletcher, Hiram Johnson and E. B. Davidson.

Going to Zion.

W. H. Remington, of Eureka, for W. H. Remington & Co., had been negotiating for a lot in Salt Lake to build a hardware store on but is now negotiating to buy out the largest hardware firm in the city, carrying a stock of $120,000. M. D. Foley and H. Mueller are there, as partners, on the same business.

The Elko Independent says "Deana, daughter of the late Dan Murphy, the well-known cattle king, is now seeking to obtain a divorce from a man to whom she was married without the knowledge of her father, some months prior to his death; and his dying request that she would never marry the man Hill—to whom she was already married is one of the grounds upon which the action is said to be based."

SENSIBLE.—The Greenville Bulletin says: "The people of all parts of Sierra Valley have agreed to assemble at Beckworth to celebrate the Fourth of July. It is in contemplation to choose some other point in the valley next year, and thus let each part have its turn. This is better than having a number of small gatherings at several points on the same day."

Weekly Review of Operation on the Comstock.

Last evening's Chronicle says, "the week closes with a feverish tendency in stock circles, chiefly due to spectres of the diamond drill, of which everybody seems to have a holy horror. Last night it was positively asserted by many usually well-posted operators—and denied by others—that orders had come from below to put the diamond drill into the Union and Sierra Nevada joint crosscut on the 3,000 level. The crosscut was last night less than 20 feet from where the vein ought to be found according to calculation, and it was feared that if the managers took this means of enlightening themselves and keeping the public in the dark, the result would be a disastrous break this morning. Well, the drill was not put in last night, and the market to-day is much stronger than it was yesterday. The Chronicle is creditably informed that the diamond drill shall not be used in this crosscut. This gives the public as fair a chance as it is possible to give in a small hole 3,000 feet below the surface of the earth. A mass meeting cannot very conveniently be held in such a place, though to hear some people talk one might be led to think it could. The crosscut is not likely to reach a distance of 40 feet before next Wednesday, as the rock is extremely hard—a good feature by the way."

The Saratoga of Nevada.

Hawthorne will, as soon as its advantages become known, be one of the most popular watering places in the United States, says the Walker Lake Bulletin. The lake water is unexcelled for bathing, its temperature is exactly right, while the mineral held in solution is very healthful to the judicious bather. A magnificent beach offers splendid facilities for bathing houses and makes entrance to the water easy and pleasant. An enterprising citizen of Hawthorne has made the first move towards making the lake a resort for pleasure seekers. He has erected a bathing house containing a number of dressing rooms, and runs a stage to and from the lake at any or all hours. Those who have once had a swim in the clear, pleasant water of Walker Lake, have no more longings for ocean bathing. A leaping and diving platform will probably soon be placed some distance out in the lake to accommodate the more expert swimmers.

Evergreen Millet

A sample stalk of the much-talked-of Arabian Millet was received at the Susanville Advocate office last Wednesday from Long Valley. It was grown on Samuel Cashman's ranch in the north end of the valley. The Advocate says "this gentleman seems to have succeeded in his experiment of testing the drought proof qualities of the grass, for he has an acre of it growing finely, and now eight or nine inches in height, which has been watered only by the rains. The seed was sown upon land where no other grain would grow, and the result in this instance is certainly highly satisfactory. Where one succeeds, others will; and, although there has apparently been no great success in starting the new grass among our farmers generally, we imagine many acres of land now barren will, two or three years hence, be yielding bountiful crops of the Arabian Millet."

A Year's Increase.

A year ago the valuation of the twenty-nine leading mines on the Comstock was $3,061,910. These same mines are to-day quoted at $7,587,260, but during the past year the assessments levied upon them amount to $3,170,540, which leaves $1,384,810 as the actual increase for the year.

Reno Guard, Attention!

All members of Reno Guard are ordered to meet at their Armory on Monday evening June 18th, at 8 o'clock sharp, as business of importance in regard to Fourth of July parade is to be attended to.

T. F. LAYCOCK, First Lieut. Com.

If you experience bad taste in mouth, sallowness or yellow color of skin, feel stupid and drowsy, appetite unsteady, frequent headache or dizziness, you are "bilious," and nothing will arouse your liver to action and strengthen your system equal to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By druggists.

The Bodie Free Press gives one of its residents the following parting notice: Miss Henrietta Schwartz, the funniest and most comical young female that ever entered a mining camp, has departed from Bodie and she will not (it is to be hoped) return. Henrietta was a four-leaved-clover-in-the-meadow, and we hope she will not come back.

The San Francisco Post says:

Ten teeth, each five inches in length, were found in the prehistoric department of the Nevada State Prison grounds at Carson. They are supposed to have belonged to a sabre-toothed tiger. The Carson tiger is a vicious animal, and it is a good thing that somebody pulled his teeth.

John M. Neall, the Nevada cadet, is No. 26 in the West Point graduating class of 50.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-lyr.

Osburn & Shoemaker have just received from the manufactory in the East a large lot of Royal St. John Sewing Machines, which they are selling at prices below what other sewing machines can be sold for, as they get them directly from the manufactory and pay no middle-men profits. These are fast becoming the leading machines. Call and see them.

The best known remedy for coughs and colds is the Infalible Cough Mixture prepared by Osburn & Shoemaker.
